

K-LOVE continues to be a light of hope in a messed up world. Without it there would be few choices of non-secular music that most of my kids listen to and would be heartbreaking not only to them but myself. The service they provide helps kids stay on the narrow road of living by a set of morals that fewer and fewer seem to want to walk. It's difficult enough with all that bombards them daily from so many other sources and K-LOVE seems to be the only refuge... please leave it just the way it is!
